Erodoro Rips

A stock's upside for $1

Founders who already shipped Rips on two chains

Existing experience and code adapted from the Solana project; existing Base protocol/scaffolding reused; new Base integration and purchase protections authored for this port.

When NVDA jumps 10%, a $1 slice of it earns 10 cents

Market: both halves are already onchain

Signal	Size
Onchain pack ripping (gacha), June 2026	$344M a month, ~6x in a year
Tokenized stock volume (xStocks)	$3B+ onchain by Jan 2026

People already rip packs onchain, and stocks are already onchain

But $1 still can't buy the move: options sit behind brokers and 100-share contracts

How do you give $1 the move?

Ripping is a proven onchain habit: one Solana card platform opens 215,000 packs a week

~200

packs per user: 22,000+ users have opened ~4.5M packs on Collector Crypt

$344M

ripped in one month (June 2026) across the top onchain pack platforms

#1

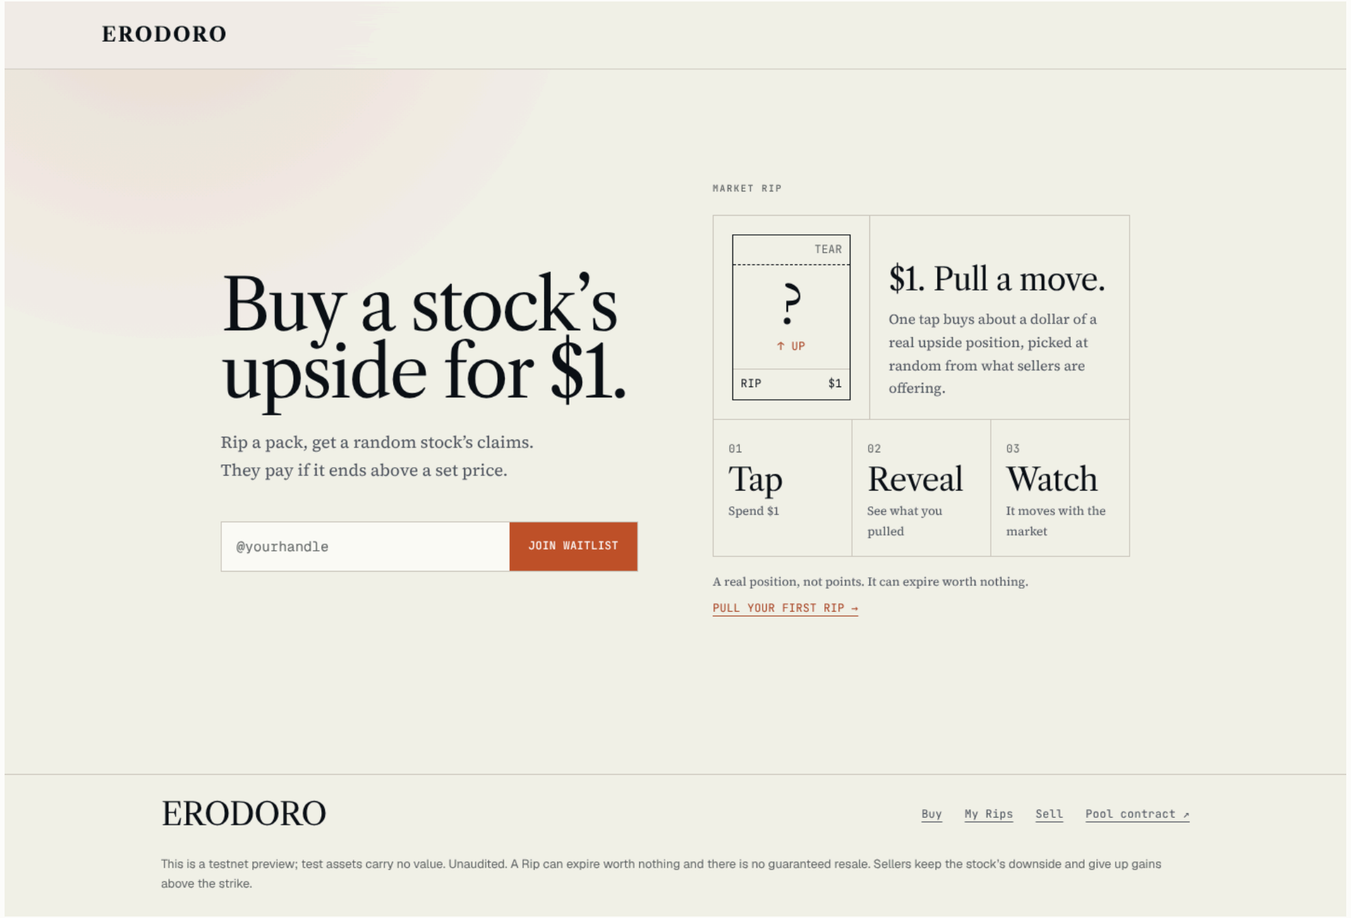

Collector Crypt passed pump.fun in daily revenue (June 2026)

Today people rip packs for trading cards. We let them rip for stock upside.

We sell a stock's upside for $1, in a blind pack

- One tap pulls a random upside position on 1 of 10 stocks: NVDA, TSLA, AAPL and more
- It pays if the stock ends above the strike after 30 days
- Holders lock stock and list its upside; every rip pays them directly

The flywheel: holders earn by listing upside, buyers rip it for $1, and every new seller adds stocks and odds that bring more rippers

It's working: [___] rips by [___] buyers on Base Sepolia, up [___]% week over week, and [___] people on the waitlist

Our GTM wedge: crypto natives who already rip packs

- Start where pulls get shared: a Base App and Farcaster mini-app, plus hackathon and Base communities
- Seed supply from tokenized-stock holders on Base, who earn on upside they aren't using
- Then expand to Solana with xStocks, and to everyday stock fans through gifted rips

The flywheel is spinning: [organic signal, e.g. a seller who listed without being asked, or a user sharing their pull]

We're raising $[__] to take Rips to Base mainnet and Solana, and put every stock's upside one dollar away
